Precious Memories

"Bresha" Forever

Remembering Herbresha 1999 - 2022

Herbresha C. Pender, daughter of Herbert M. Pender, Jr. and Christie D. King, was born August 27, 1999 in Wilson, North Carolina. She transitioned from this earthly life on Wednesday as she was called to her eternal rest. "Bresha", as she was affectionately called, was reared in Wilson where she lived, worked, and learned the values of life. She received her formative education in the Wilson County Public School System where she attended Ralph L. Fike High School. Dependable and resourceful, she entered the workforce and was employed by Smithfield Packing as a machine operator.

With a vibrant personality, Herbresha had a spirit of devotion and kindness. She delighted in the special times spent with her family and friends, especially her precious children who were the center of her life and brought her so much joy. Having a zest for life, she loved to do all things that young people do. Getting her hair, nails, eyelashes, and eyebrows done were things she took so much pride in having done. Getting slayed it is called. Wearing the latest fashions and just being beautiful gave her much pleasure. She also enjoyed dancing, laughter, and styling hair. She believed in the love of God and enjoyed the worship and ministries at Amazing Grace Church where she became a member. To know "Bresha" was to love her. She was bubbly and full of life. Gone too soon, to always be remembered with love and adoration.

Precious and lasting memories are forever cherished by her devoted mother, Christie D. Don't Cry for Me

Don't cry for me for I am free

God called me home; heaven's where I'll be.

Don't cry for me, don't shed a tear

It was the Master's plan, the month the day the year.

Don't cry for me and please don't grieve,

Heaven sent its angels down and so I must leave.

But before I go there's some things I must say,

Much love to all my guys from around the way.

Whom I truly love and will forever miss

Just remember the good times, as you try to move on,

And take care of my seeds, and don't ask God why

It was just meant to be

So hold down and maintain, but don't cry for me!

Forever in our hearts

Your Family

*My Beautiful Black Barbie,
As soon as I started writing this,
Tears started falling, so it got to be short and sweet.
I can hear you saying, 'mama, you're strong, you got this.
I wanted you to stay, but God needed you more
Mommie needs you to know that I am very proud
And honored to say, you were a very driven, strong-minded young woman and mother you became, I saw me. I am hurting baby, so give me a little time to get back to that strong woman you looked up to.
Rest my love, your three kings will be well taken care of.
LOVE 4Ever,
Your Mother*
